Working Day and Night on the New Stand at Polo Grounds.

MAY BE READY ON JUNE 28

Packey McFarland and Matt Wells to Box Before a Milwaukee Club.

Extraordinary efforts are being made by the contractors who are building the new grandstand at the Polo Grounds to complete the structure at the earliest possible moment. The work is being carried on night and day by a small army of men divided into three shifts.

The new stand will be a mammoth double decker, and, although it will not be possible to finish it by June 28, the day the Boston team appears in New York on the return of the Giants from their Western tour, the contractors are bending every effort to complete the ground floor in time for that game.

Steel work for the construction has already been started, and quite a large portion is now in transit, and will be delivered at the park, ready for erection, as soon as the concrete piers are dry enough to hold.

Owing to the fact that the ground under Coogan's Bluff is artificially made, and was formerly under water, it was found that every inch of the foundation had to be piled. Some of these foundations are nine feet square, and rest on twelve piles driven to solid bedrock from twenty to forty feet below the surface.

This fact, which developed after starting the construction and not contemplated at first, except in a limited way, has delayed the foundation work for several days, but it will practically be completed this week, and, with the concrete, steel and other material ready to be put into place, the finish will become only a question of men.

One of the features of the new upper tier will be that it will have no stairs and will be entered from the front instead of from the rear, as formerly. There will be direct entrance to all boxes, both lower and upper, and these entrances will be practically level.

Packey McFarland has agreed to meet Matt Wells, the English lightweight champion, in a ten-round bout at Milwaukee early in June. The boys have settled on 133 pounds at 3 o'clock as the weight. The exact date for the bout has not been settled, but probably will be on June 9. Wells is on his way from England, and will be allowed to set the date. His manager, who is in this city, expressed himself last night as satisfied with the terms offered and the weight.

Judging by the number and character of the entries, the international amateur boxing tournament under the direction of the Pastime Athletic Club at Madison Square Garden, which begins to-night, will bring together the most representative collection of boxers that ever appeared in a single entertainment. In addition to the five men who have come all the way from England to compete, there are seven from Canada, five from Boston, and others from Philadelphia, Jersey City, Hoboken and this city.

As if this were not enough, the management has been keeping the wires busy between here and Kansas City in the hope of bringing on five champions in the various classes from the Middle West. Up to a late hour last night, however, no positive announcement on this score could be made.

The international fair given to the tournament has served to create unusual interest and rivalry among the amateur associations throughout the country, many of which will be represented at the Garden both nights of the tournament. Reservations for members of the Amateur Athletic Union or affiliated clubs may be had by application to the manager, Tim Hurst, at the Hotel Bartholdi, or to Secretary Lee, of the Pastime Athletic Club, 30th street and East River.

According to the 1911 handicap ratings of the Western Golf Association, Charles "Chick" Evans, of Edgewater, the Western open champion; Mason E. Phelps, of Midolthian, the Western amateur champion, and W. C. Fowles, Jr., of Pittsburg, the national amateur champion, have improved two strokes on H. Chandler Egan, of Exmore, former national champion in the last year. In 1910 Egan was the only player placed on scratch, while the three above him will be represented at the Garden both nights of the tournament.

George Lyon, many times champion of the United States, and Canadian players, among others, are being listed by virtue of the expansion movement effected at the last meeting of the Western Golf Association.

The Brooklyn Jockey Club filed yesterday with the clerk of Kings County a certificate extending its corporate existence twenty-five years. The certificate was signed by the holders of 430 of the 500 shares of stock. This corporation owns the Gravesend race track and the president is Philip J. Dwyer and the secretary Richard Hyde. This looks as if one racing association was preparing for an early resumption of the sport.

"Cyclone Johnny" Thompson, who claims the middleweight title because he outpointed Billy Papke in Australia, is out with a challenge to fight Sam Langford. Thompson would like to meet the Boston champion in a twenty round bout on the Coast. Johnny is on his way to Los Angeles, where he will try to have the boxing promoters of that city take the contest.

Critics are not inclined to take the proposition seriously. While Thompson received a decision over the Kewanee fighter after twenty rounds, thereafter, it is said, was ill and not in the best condition. Hugo Kelly, of Chicago, whom Papke knocked out in less than two minutes a couple of years ago, dealt out a severe beating to Thompson in ten rounds and almost had him out. Langford is generally rated above Papke or Kelly.

Yale and Harvard to Confer on Games in Boston To-day.

[By Telegram to The Tribune.] Cambridge, Mass., May 18.—Whether Harvard and Yale will accept the challenge for a set of track and field games in London in July, sent out by Oxford and Cambridge universities, will be decided tomorrow at a meeting of the Harvard and Yale track team managers in Boston.

W. F. Garcelon, of Harvard, stated to-day that there seems small doubt indeed that the challenge will be accepted and that all that remains to be settled is the date of the games. The Englishmen are in favor of July 6, but the Americans prefer July 22.

It is anticipated here that the American athletes would experience trouble in securing proper transportation facilities late in June. The challenge recently received was extremely formal and has not yet been answered in kind. This doubtless will be done within a few days.

London, May 18.—At a joint meeting of the Oxford and Cambridge athletic clubs last night July 6 was confirmed as the date of the meeting with the Yale and Harvard teams. It was provisionally agreed that the British team shall consist of the winners of this year's intervarsity sports.

ELLIOTT STILL UNCONSCIOUS

Condition of Vice-President of Phillies Is Serious.

Philadelphia, May 18.—The condition of Frank S. Elliott, one of the owners of the Philadelphia National League Baseball Club, who was stricken with a cerebral hemorrhage at the game on Wednesday yesterday, is critical to-day, and fears for his recovery are entertained.

Mr. Elliott was taken ill after the game with Cincinnati yesterday, when Philadelphia won in the eleventh inning. He fell unconscious, and remains in that condition at a hospital. Mr. Elliott is vice-president of the ball club and a well known attorney.
